TRAINING GUIDE: OUR 10 GOLDEN TIPS

TRAINING CAN BE FUN IF YOU PLAN AND FOCUS ON YOUR GOALS. REMEMBER WE ARE HERE TO HELP YOU MAKE EVERY STEP COUNT AND DON'T FORGET THE FUNDS YOU RAISE HELP THE IRISH CANCER SOCIETY SUPPORT PEOPLE AFFECTED BY CANCER.

- 1. Clearly identify your personal goals: Remember start where you are and build up your fitness gradually. Don't be afraid to walk as you become a runner, that's great training too. We all have to start somewhere.
- 2. Find a training buddy or group: training with a friend or group can make the time go faster, help you go further and make it all more fun.
- 3. Get the right gear: The right shoes and gear can make the world of difference and it's nice to look good too.
- 4. Stay healthy: Build a solid base for training with good hydration, a balanced diet and plenty of sleep.
- 5. Pace yourself: Remember Rome wasn't built in a day. Do not increase your mileage too soon or you will get injured.
- 6. It's okay to rest: You do not have to train hard every day. Easy recovery runs are just as important. Remember your body has to repair itself following a hard workout.
- 7. See the forest and the trees: Nothing is as beneficial as exercising outside.
- 8. Hit the hills: Hill training will make you strong fast.
- 9. Form your pit crew: A physical therapist or chartered physiotherapist can help prevent and rehab injuries and running aches and pains.
- 10. Be true to you: Remember train in a way that is right for your abilities. We are all different.
